

Illinois Valley Community College

Situated on 425 acres in Oglesby, Illinois nestled high up on the bluff overlooking the picturesque Illinois River, Illinois Valley Community College (IVCC) was founded in 1924. As a comprehensive community college, IVCC's current enrollment is over 4,000 students, with 84 full time and 150 part time faculty members. The college serves approximately 145,000 residents with 21 high schools in its 2,000-square mile district, No. 513. The district encompasses LaSalle, Bureau and Putnam Counties as well as small parts of Lee, DeKalb, Grundy, Livingston and Marshall counties. Illinois Valley Community College conducts day and evening classes at our Ottawa Center Marquette High School and night classes at area high schools throughout the district. The college offers two-year associate's in arts and associate's in science degrees toward transfer to a four-year college or university and career and certificate degrees. We have programs and services for employers with credit and non-credit options available. IVCC's Adult Education component offers GED and ESL courses at convenient times and locations throughout the district. No Place So Close Can Take You So Far!
